

Muhlenbergia montana

Mountain Muhly

Plant type:	Perennial warm season bunchgrass
Season of Interest:	Year-round
Height: 18-32"	Spread: up to 24"
Water needs:	xeric
Native Region:	CO, AZ, NM, TX, UT, WY
Elevation:	4500-9500'
Important to know:	Important larval food host for many of our native invertebrates. Grows in a clump that gradually increases in diameter.

Maintenance:	Low
Characteristics:	Landscape interest – Color/Texture
Garden uses:	Beds, Borders, Hedges & Screens
Habitat:	Rocky areas, forest openings, foothills

Ease of Propagation: Easy

Propagation: Warm season. Sow the seeds with very light cover 2 weeks before your last frost date in the spring or on into the summer. Put outside when temps reach 70°F. Leaves emerge in 1-2w.